

Mārtiņš Birģelis ir jurists un pētnieks ar specializāciju cilvēktiesībās un konstitucionālajās tiesībās. Mārtiņš ir ieguvis gan jurista kvalifikāciju, gan pabeidzis tiesību zinātnes doktorantūras studijas Latvijā un kā Fulbright stipendiāts ieguvis specializēto LL.M grādu starptautiskajās cilvēktiesības Notre Dame universitātē, ASV. Cita starpā, guvis pieredzi LR Tiesībsarga birojā, LR Saeimā un American Bar Association, Rule of Law Initiative (Vašingtona, ASV), kā arī stažējies ANO Augstā cilvēktiesību komisāra birojā (Ženēva, Šveice) un ANO Bēgļu aģentūrā (Santo Domingo, Dominikānas Republika).

Mārtiņš Birģelis is a lawyer and researcher specializing in human rights and constitutional law. Mārtiņš has obtained his lawyer's qualification and completed his doctoral studies in legal science in Latvia, and as a Fulbright scholar he earned a specialized LL.M degree in international human rights at Notre Dame University, USA. Among other things, he has gained experience in the Ombudsman's Office of the Republic of Latvia, the Parliament of Latvia and the American Bar Association, Rule of Law Initiative (Washington, USA), as well as at the Office of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights (Geneva, Switzerland) and the UN Refugee Agency (Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic).